Select Poetry.

I Like an Open, Honest Heart.

I like an open, honest heart,
Where frankness loves to dwell,
Which has no place for base deceit,
Nor hollow words can tell:
But in whose throbbing plain are seen
The import of the mind,
Whose gentle breathings utter nought
But accents true and kind.

I "scorn" the one whose empty act
And honied words of art
Betray the feelings of the soul,
With perfidy's keen dart:
No more kind friends in such confide,
Nor in their kindness trust,
For "black ingratitude" but turns
Pure friendship to disgust.

"Contempt" is but a gentle word,
A feeling far too mild,
For one who "confidence betrays"
And guilt has sore beguiled;
That hate which hellish fiends evince,
When in dark torments toss'd,
Is not more loathsome to the soul
Than one to honor lost.

Then give me one with hearts as free
And gen'rous as the air
Whose ready hand and greeting kind
Give proof that "truth" is there,
Whose smiling countenance well shows
Affection warm is found,
And spirits, pure as saints, whose notes
Through Heaven's vaults resound.

Be Gentle to thy Husband!

Be gentle, there are hours when he
By anxious care is tossed;
And shadows deep lie on his brow,
By business trials crossed.

Be gentle, 'tis for you he toils,
And thinks, and strives to gain
Home comforts and home happiness—
Don't let him strive in vain.

Be gentle, though some hasty word
Should fall, it was not meant;
A smile, a kind word will recall,
And many more prevent.

Be gentle, Oh! 'twill soothe much care,
And make each burden light,
A gentle tone will smooth the brow,
And draw an answer bright.

Be gentle, though it may seem hard,
To check an angry word;
Yet try, and it will surely bring
A full and rich reward.

A YANKEE STORY, OR, SISTER SAL'S COURTSHIP.

How are ye? How d'ye do? all of ye? Wall I am here, I reckon, and no mistake. I'm all the way from Rum Pint, where father carries on the Lard and Sausage business, exten-sive, I tell you Red flannel is in some demand in them diggins, I reckon. I'm something of crab in them parts, I do suppose; but I don't amount to no great deal here. I'm a live Yankee tho', and by the great home spun, I'll put her through, I'll be darned to darnation if I don't, if it kills every cow in dad's barn. You'll sarch one while, I'll tell you, afore you'll find a man, that take him by and large, is equal to one of our free and enlightened citizens. The British can lick all the world and we can lick the British. We're clear grit—ginger to the back bun, you may depend. It's generally allowed there ain't the beat of us to be found anywhere. Though I say it that shouldn't say it, we fairly take the shine off all creation. We are actually equal to cash.

I guess the Yankees can see a pesky ways further ahead than most folks. They can e'en a'most see round t'other side of a thing—and som on 'em has hurt their eyes by it, and that's the reason such a sight of 'em wears spectacles.

Well, I'm here—but I don't zactly know what to do now I'm here. Spose'n I tell you a small bit about my sister Sal's courtship? You don't know Sal, any on ye, do ye? Sal Slocum, down at Rum Pint—Deacon Slocum's oldest darter? The very sight o' Yankee gals is good for sore eyes, I do believe. The dear little critters, they do look so scrumptious and so al jogred good—lick! it makes my mouth water think on 'em. Wall, sister Sal was a real witch of a gal—a most everlastin sweet gal, was Sal—you will scarce ever see a more out and out, complete critter than she was—fust chop, real upper crust and no mistake—as full of fun and frolic as a kitten.

Wall Jim Monroe was a courtin sister Sal, and he fairly turned the gal's head. Jim was a desperate idle, good-for-nothing, do-little sort of a fellow; but the more he wanted Sal to give him up the more she declared she wouldn't do it, and we got plaguey onensy about it, for his character wasn't none of the best. He was a universal favorite with the gals—though he didn't behave very putty neither—forgetting to marry where he hadn't ought to forget to by a darned site.

At last, one evening, when he came a courtin, father says to him, "Jim!" says he to him, and says Jim, "What?" and says he, Jim, you'll never cum to no good if you act like old Scratch as you do; you ain't fit to come into a decent man's house, and your room would be ten times more agreeable than your company.— I won't consent to Sal's goin to them quilting parties and huskin frolics no more with you; for you know how Polly White got her character fixed to one on 'em.

"Now don't!" says Jim, (he was all-fired slick at soft swader,) "now don't say no more about that—I'm going to settle right dawn and take a farm."

"Yess," says father, "and you couldn't stock it too, by all accounts—but it won't do. I tell you once for all, you must give up all thoughts of Sal from now to everlasting."

When Sal heard this she bit like mad, and tried to bite in her breath, and look as if there was nothing particular in the wind—then she blushed all over like the scarlet fever—then the color comes and goes, like the Northern Lites, till she was as white as chalk, and down she fell keralumps on the floor in a faintin fit.

"I see," says father, "I see how it is," and he made a pull at the old fashioned sword that hung over the mantle-piece (we used to call it old Bunker) and a drawn it out made a clip at him as wicked as if he was a stabbin a rat with a hay-fork—but Jim, he outs of the door like a streak of ile, and pulls it to arter him, and father sends old Bunker clean through the pannel. "I'll chop you as fine as mince meat, you villain," said he, "if I ever catch you inside of my door again; mind what I tell you; you'll swing for it yet."

Wall, Jim made himself considerably scarce after that; and I kinder thought he had given up all hope of Sal, and she of him. When one night, a most particular uncommon dark night, as I was coming home from Neighbor Dearborne's, I heered some one talking under Sal's winder. Wall, I stopped and listened, and I swan to man, who should be near the ash saplin but Jim Monroe, a tryin to persuade Sal to run off to Rhode Island to be married. It was all settled atween 'em—and he was to cum with a horse and shay to the gate and help her out o' the winder, just at nine o'clock, about the time she generally went to bed. Then he axes her to reach her hand down for him to kiss (for he was proper clever at soft swader,) and off he sot, hot foot over the gate, in less than no time.

Wall, I ciphered over this a spell, a calculating how I should reciprocate that trick with him, and at last I hit on the very checker. I recollected father's word at partin', "Mind, Jim, you'll swing for it yet," and thinks I, friend Jim, I'll make that are prophe-si come true yet, I guess. So I jest slips out and bends down that ash saplin' under Sal's winder, and fastened it down with a notched peg and noose, and put a big slip-knot just over the track from the path to the winder, so Jim couldn't get there without tumblin' into it.

Wall, jist as the clock struck nine, says I "Sally, hold this here hank of twine a minit, till I wind a trifle on off, that's a dear critter." So she sot down her candle, and I begins to wind and wind ever so slow, and drops the ball ever now and then, so as to keep her down stairs.

"Sam," says she, "I do believe you won't wind that twine off to-night; I vow I can't stay no longer; I'm e'en a most dead asleep. "Hark!" ses I, what's that? I'm sure I heard something in the ash saplin', didn't you?" "I heered the geese there, that's all," says she, "they come under the winder at night." But she looked scared enough, and says she, "I vow, I'm tired of holding my arms out this way, and I won't do it no longer," and she throwed the hank on the floor. "Wall," ses I, "stop a minit, till I send old Snowball out to see if anybody is there—perhaps the cattle is got into the sars gardin'.

Old Snowball went out, though Sal said it was no use, and soon came a runnin' in with his hair standin' on eend, and his eyes as big as a soup plate, "Oh, Gor Ormighty!" ses he, "Oh, massa! Oh, Miss Sally," ses he. "What on airth is the matter with you?" said Sally.— "Oh Gor Ormighty, massa! Jim Monroe, he hanged himself on the ash saplin' under Miss Sally's winder!"

That shot was a settler: it struck poor Sally right atween wind and water. She gave one lurch and fell kerslump, right down in another faintin' fit.

Wall, father, I thought he'd fainted too; he was struck all of a heap and completely dumfungled. "I foretold it," ses he, "the last time I seed him, but I didn't think it would come so soon; I told him he'd swing for it yet."

Wall, father seized old Bunker, and I took the lantern, and out we went, and there was Jim, sure enough, snared like a rabbit, hung up by one leg and his head down, kickin' like mad.— "Cut me down, Sam," says he, "all the blood in my body has swashed into my head; cut me down quick, for heaven's sake."

"The Lord be praised," said father, "the poor sinner is yet alive. Why, as I'm alive if he ain't snared, too. Wall, now, Sam, this is some of your doins, I guess. It's a clever trick, too, but a little spec dangerous.'

"Cut me down! cut me down!" said Jim, "don't stand staring and jawing all night, for I'm chokin' with blood."

Father kinder pitied the rascal, and givin' the rope a clip with old Bunker, let him down in a jiff. Jim looked streaked enuff, you may depend; he couldn't walk a bit, and he swore one leg was six inches longer than the other! He begged for heaven's sake it might be kept a secret; he said he would run the State if ever he got wind; he was sure he couldn't stand it.

"It will be one while, I guess," ses father, "afore you're able to either to run or stand, but if you'll give me your hand, and promise to give over your evil ways, I will keep it a secret, and you shall be welcome to my house once more."

Wal, Jim promised it; it was all settled; and things grew as calm as a pan of milk two days old, and 'fore a year was over Jim was as steady a' man as minister Hopewell, and was married to our Sal.

Nothin' was ever said about the snare until arter the weddin'. When the minister had finished axin' the blessin', father goes up to Jim, and givin' him a rousin' slap on the shoulder, ses he, "Jim Monroe, you've got the snare round your neck now, instead of your leg, my boy; may you be the father of many saplins!"

☞ Young ladies, if they knew how disgusting to man slovenliness is, and how attractive are displays of neatness and taste, would array themselves in the simplicity and cleanliness of the lilies of the field; or, if able to indulge in costly attire, they would study the harmonious blending of colors which nature exhibits in all her works.

A girl of good taste, and habits of neatness, can make a more fascinating toilet with a shilling calico dress, a few ribbons and laces, and such ornaments as she can gather from the garden, than a vulgar, tawdry creature who is worth millions, and has the jewelry and wardrobe of a princess.

☞ A bill has been introduced in the Tennessee Legislature to prevent free negroes from traveling on the railroads in that State, which passed at the first reading. The bill provides that the President who shall permit a free negro to travel on any railroad within the jurisdiction of the State under his supervision, shall pay a fine of five hundred dollars; any conductor permitting a violation of the act shall pay a fine of two hundred and fifty dollars; provided such free negro is not under the control and care of a free white citizen of Tennessee, who vouches for the character of said free negro in the penal bond of $1,000.

A Monkey's Revenge.

When monkeys are in captivity, they always endeavor to be noticed by visitors, partly for vanity's sake, and partly because they hope for certain donations of nuts, apples and other dainties. Their jealousy is easily excited and knows no bounds if they imagine their rival is getting more than his fair share of the good things. I was once a witness of a most absurd scene of jealousy.

A few years ago one of Wombwell's well known collections visited Oxford, and, as usual, exhibited a large allowance of monkeys. These little animals exercised all their ingenuity in attracting the notice of the visitors, in order to obtain some of the nuts, cakes, &c., which he saw the elephant receiving. One particularly lively monkey had obtained considerable eminence in his art, and used to monopolize no small portion of the various delicacies. Suddenly he failed to procure his usual supplies, and saw, with great indignation, that most of the visitors, particularly the ladies, had turned their attention to the next cage. This of course excited his jealousy and curiosity, and exercised all his endeavors to discover the cause of his desertion. At length by dint of great perseverance, he contrived to poke out a knot in the board which divided their partition, and on looking through, discovered that the inhabitant of the adjoining tenement had lately been blessed with a baby. That unfortunate baby monkey instantly became the object of his unremitting persecution. He watched it through his knot-hole—he put his hand round the corner and tried to pinch the poor animal—he picked the keeper's pocket of the food that ought to have gone to his rival—and, in fact, spent his time in devising new annoyances.— The mother all this time was perfectly acquainted with the evil designs of her neighbor, and carefully kept her baby away from the dangerous corner where the monkey's hand was continually intruding itself. In a short time the little one was suffered to go about by himself, and its untiring enemy redoubled his exertions.

At last the time of revenge arrived. One day he was observed to pay more attention to commence that peculiar vibrating movement which generally prefaces a monkey's mischief. Suddenly his eye was withdrawn from the knot-hole, his hand thrust through like lightning, and withdrawn, bringing with it the tail of the unfortunate little monkey on the other side of the partition. He fixed his feet firmly on each side of the knot-hole, and tugged away at his rival's tail, alternately screaming with delight and chattering with fear at the punishment which he knew would follow. The poor baby monkey on being assaulted in such an unexpected manner, set up a most heartrending outcry, on hearing which her mother flew to her assistance, and seeing her offspring apparently fastened to the wall, seized it by its arms, and pulled with all her might in order to release it. The aggressor chatted, the mother remonstrated, and the baby screamed until the outcry drew the attention of a keeper, at whose approach the aggressor loosed his hold on his victim's tail, and crouched into the farthest corner of the cage, where he displayed exceeding ingenuity in avoiding the cuts of the keeper's whip.

An Old Maid in a Sleeping Car.

The Milwaukee News tells the following incident, which was witnessed by a friend in a sleeping car on the Detroit and Milwaukie road: The car was nearly full, and in one of the compartments was a maiden lady, neither fat nor fair, but forty, who was wonderfully exercised at her close proximity to some naughty men, who were much amused at her nervousness. Looking about her with side-long glances, and shrugs of disgust, she finally mustered courage to put on her "night cap," which operation was almost too much for her. This feat accomplished, she again cast frightened glances at her surrounders, obviously afraid to proceed further. At this juncture the conductor came in, whom she immediately button holed, and, in whispers heard in the remotest part of the car, she indignantly interrogated him to know if there were no curtains "in the house." "Certainly, ma'am," said the affable conductor, who hastened to procure some, at which she appeared exceedingly grateful. They were soon drawn, and she proceeded to make herself as comfortable as the nature of the circumstances allowed.

But she was destined to enjoy very little repose, for every new comer in pursuit of quarters, who passed her crib, would inquiringly draw her curtain to see if it was occupied, when a smothered scream would issue forth, which caused an instantaneous dropping of "the rag," when the persecuted damsel would subside for a moment, only to be aroused on the arrival of some new place-hunter. As this process continued throughout the night, amid the occasional guffaws of the spectators, it may be imagined that the poor victim obtained very little satisfaction for her fifty cents outlay, and that she internally vowed never to place herself in a like predicament again.

☞ The following amusing anecdote comes to us as true:

A man having a large family found it rather hard to keep up the table, has adopted the following plan:

At evening just before supper he calls his children around him and addresses them thus:

"Who will take a cent and do without his supper?"

"I! I! I!" exclaim the children, eager to get the prize.

The old man pulls out a pocketbook full of red cents which he keeps for the occasion, and after giving them one apiece, sends them off to bed

Next morning they look like starved Arabs. The old man calls them round and with gravity asks—

"Who'll give a cent to have a nice warm biscuit for breakfast?"

It is needless to say that the cents were forthcoming. Good plan.

☞ The young man, Cook, concerned in the late insurrection at Harper's Ferry, and distinguished with the title of "Captain" Cook, was, some six or seven years ago, a resident of Philadelphia, and employed at the Ledger office, where, for nearly a year, he "held copy," as the printers call it, for the proof reader. He was then about eighteen or nineteen years old.

☞ "Ma, has aunty got bees in her mouth?" —"No; why do you ask such a question?"— "Because, that little man with a heap of hair on his face, cotched hold of her and told her he was going to take the honey from her lips; and she said: "Well, make haste!"

I'LL BUY IT FOR YOU.—In the interior of South Carolina there lived, some years ago, an old man, very rich and not very well "posted up." His only son was educated at the South Carolina College; and after graduating, was sent to Europe by his indulgent father. On his return his father asked him what he saw in Europe. The son replied that he had seen a great many rare and beautiful things and many fine cities.

"Did you see any place you liked better than home?" asked the old man.

"Oh, yes," was the reply; I saw London and Paris—both very fine cities."

"Which did you like best?" queried the father.

"Paris," replied the son.

"You liked Paris a great deal, did you?" continued the old man.

"Oh, yes, very much."

"Then I'll buy it for you" triumphantly replied the old gentleman.

CORRECT SPEAKING.—We advise all young people to acquire, in early life the habit of using good language, both in speaking and writing, and to abandon as early as possible, any use of slang phrases. The longer they live, the more difficult the acquisition of correct language will be; and if the golden age of youth, the proper season for the acquisition of language be passed in its abuse, the unfortunate victim of neglected education is, very properly, doomed to talk slang for life. Money is not necessary to procure this education. Every man has it in his power. He has merely to use the language which he reads, instead of the slang which he hears; to form his taste from the best speakers and poets of the country, to treasure up choice phrases in his memory—avoiding at the same time, the pendantic precision and bombast, which show rather the weakness of a vain ambition than the polish of an educated mind.

☞ It is said that Governor Wise is not very complimentary to the people of Harper's Ferry, imputing to them cowardice, in allowing such a handful of men to hold a population of nearly two thousand inhabitants prisoners for twenty-four hours. He also spoke of the fact of eight or ten men keeping forty or fifty citizens in confinement. One replied—

"Well, Governor, but you must remember we were packed together like sheep."

"Yes," replied the Gov., "I know that; and I must say, I think you acted like sheep also."

A MORMON REFORM.—We see it is stated in the Cincinnati Commercial that about five hundred Latter Days Saints, from five of the western States, held a Conference lately in Illinois, and decided upon sending out elders to show the Mormons in Utah how they have fallen away from the faith first delivered to their church.— They are to start a monthly periodical called the True Latter Day Saints' and Anti-Polygamists' Organ. They do not believe in permitting a man to be "sealed" to more than one wife at a time.

☞ The Omaha City Republican says that frauds were perpetrated at the recent election of a delegate to Congress in that Territory equal to those at Oxford and Kickapoo, in Kansas.— Returns from Fort Kearney gives Eastbrook 238 majority, while it is asserted that not twenty-five legal voters reside there. The same paper notices the discovery of an organized gang of robbers in that neighborhood, implicating an ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, an ex-Sheriff, and several other prominent citizens.

I like the silly clown, I like the horse's dash, but blessings on't my fine new bonnet, went to everlasting smash. I like these jolly circuses, I sometimes like the rain, but as it always rains on circuses, bless me!—I'll never go again."

BOOTS.—Boots are said to have been invented by the Carians. They were at first made of leather, afterwards of brass or iron, and were proof against both rust or cut. It was from this that Homer called the Greeks brazen-footed. Formerly, in France, a great foot was much esteemed; and the length of the shoe, in the fourteenth century, was a mark of distinction. The shoes of a prince were two feet and a half long; those of a baron two feet; those of a knight eighteen inches long.

About a week ago he sold the clock to another man, who after taking it home, discovered that a looking-glass in the back of the clock was broken. He took out the glass to have it replaced by a new one, when he discovered notes of the Bank of England to the amount of ten thousand dollars. It is reported that the heirs of the estate to which the clock belonged are going to commence suit for the recovery of the money.

Thanksgiving in Pennsylvania.

PENNSYLVANIA, SS.:

SEAL

IN THE NAME AND BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.
WILLIAM F. PACKER,
Governor of the said Commonwealth.

PROCLAMATION.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—The blessings vouchsafed by a kind Providence through the past year, demand our grateful recognition and again call for the sacrifice of Thanksgiving and praise. Under the protection of a Government that secures to all equal rights, we have pursued, unmolested, the various avocations of life, with more than usual prosperity. The earth, under the labors of the husbandman, has yielded her increase, and our barns and storehouses are crowded with the fruits of the harvest. We have not only been preserved from the ravages of the pestilence, but the past has been a year distinguished for health in our large cities and throughout all our rural districts. Our country has been preserved in peace. Our homes have been the abodes of tranquility, and blessings innumerable have clustered around our domestic hearths. Our various schools and seminaries of learning are diffusing throughout our community a higher intelligence, and imparting to our youth nobler aspirations. The institutions of our holy religion are well sustained; and under its pure and genial influence, the spirit of unity and love, the earnest of yet better days, is most happily developed. To God, the Great and the good, we are indebted for all, and to Him let praise be rendered.

With these sentiments, and in accordance with the known wishes of many of my fellow-citizens, I, WILLIAM F. PACKER, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby appoint THURSDAY, the 24th day of NOVEMBER next, as a day of general Thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God, and recommend to all our people to lay aside on that day, their customary worldly business—assemble in their respective places of worship, and unite in praising God for His excellent greatness toward us—beseeching His gracious goodness.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this fourteenth day of October, A. D. 1859, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-fourth.

By the Governor: WM. F. PACKER.
WM. M. HIESTER, Sec. Commonwealth.

The Insurrection

To have published all the details of the late insurrection at Harper's Ferry, together with even a meagre account of the trial of Old Brown and his associates, would have occupied all our columns, consequently we have not burthened them with any of it, presuming that most of our readers, who care particularly about the transaction, have already been posted up by the daily papers. We may say, however, that during the progress of the trial, many men who have heretofore taken a conspicuous part as leaders of the Republican party, have been connected in some ways with Old Brown in his mad scheme. Whether there is really any just reason to so connect these men with such a consummate piece of folly, or whether it is done to injure them politically, time will tell. If it be the latter, it will work to the injury of those engaged in it.

Old Brown has had his trial on the triple charge of treason, conspiracy and murder, has been convicted, and doubtless before a week, will swing from the scaffold.

To All Who are Concerned.

All shrewd business men agree that to be successful in business, three things are necessary. To have a real good article, to sell it cheap, and then—to let the world know it. These are the reasons why the Pittsburgh Dollar Chronicle—that widely-known family weekly—has attained such immense circulation, and so great popularity. No paper in the whole country is better, cheaper, or more universally liked.—Think of it. Each issue contains over thirty columns of the very latest, spiciest and most entertaining news, all carefully selected and condensed. The type is bran-new, distinct and easily legible. Independent in politics and religion, it contains nothing dull, long, or prosy, but is as full of wit, spirit, and interest "as an egg is full of meat." The market, cattle, local, neighborhood, telegraphic, and agricultural news is very full and reliable. Its two peculiar, and most popular features, however, are a list of all the Solvent Banks of the country, carefully corrected, and inserted each month, and a column of the latest counterfeits inserted each week—together, worth many times the petty price of the paper. Single subscription only one dollar per annum. In clubs of ten to one address, only seventy-five cents, invariably in advance. Send to Charles M'Knight, publisher, Chronicle Building, Pittsburgh, and the current number will be forwarded you free of expense. Thus you can judge for yourselves, and act accordingly.

☞ We have received a copy of a paper entitled the Egyptian Spy, published at Tamaroa, Ill., by our old friend J. S. Barr, Esq., alias "Yellow Moccasin," formerly of the Huntingdon American. How the deuce "Yellow Moccasin" and his "Michigan Band-box" ever come to settle down in that part of Illinois styled Egypt, is more than we can discover, unless it should have been a philanthropic desire to enlighten the inhabitants of that benighted locality, a mission he is abundantly able to fulfil. Under the supervision of such a "perfect brick" as he, the paper could not be other than spicy and readable. Hope he may meet with un- [illegible] success.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ Arrived—the big "squirt" on Saturday last.

☞ Lovely—the fall and winter fashions of ladies bonnets.

☞ Lovelier—some of the smiling faces seen inside of them.

☞ The gas and water works will be completed by the 1st of December.

☞ A protracted meeting is now in progress in the Methodist Church at Hollidaysburg.

☞ Marriage, like fiddling, depends a great deal upon the beau-ing.

☞ Will be about again—the big "squirt" on Saturday afternoon next.

☞ A grand Firemans' parade came off at Harrisburg on Tuesday last.

☞ "Ossawatomie" Brown is stated to be the father of twenty-two children.

☞ Coming—Thanksgivings, with its dinners of turkey and other "fixins."

☞ No man can avoid his own company—so he had best make it as good as possible.

☞ Scarce—unhooped ladies, disinterested friends, common honesty, and first rate butter.

☞ The New York Evening Post suggests that Virginia be hereafter called "John Brown's Tract."

☞ Somewhat uncertain—the Harrisburg editors about the time the new schedule will go into operation.

☞ There is many a man whose tongue might govern multitudes, if he could only govern his tongue.

☞ Mrs. Partington makes Shakespeare say: "sweet are the use of advertisements." It's so—if he didn't say it.

☞ The greater the difficulty, the more glory in surmounting it; skilful pilots gain their reputation from the storms and tempests.

☞ A number of anoymous letters have been received by citizens of Harrisburg, threatening the destruction of the town by fire.

☞ Not true—that Heenan, the "Benicia Boy," was killed in a prize fight in Canada.—It was a fellow who called himself Heenan.

☞ Van Tries' Band will give a grand concert in Hollidaysburg to-morrow (Friday) evening. Hope they may realize handsomely.

☞ The editor who kissed his sweetheart, saying, "please exchange," is believed not to have exceeded the proper "liberty of the press."

☞ Capt. Bell, former editor of the Star is now engaged in selling clothing at No. 55 North 3d street, Philadelphia.

☞ Why are young ladies at the breaking up of a party like arrows? Because they can't go off without a beau, and are in a quiver till they get one.

☞ It is said that a lady, on putting on her corset, is like a man who drinks to drown his grief, because in so lacing herself she is getting tight.

☞ Gen. Shaffer, Senator from the Lancaster County District is already spoken of by some of the papers as a candidate for Speaker of the next Senate.

☞ Musical in the evenings—the Book, Periodical and Music store across the street. The way cat-gut and horse-hair has to take it is a caution.

☞ In one of the Methodist churches at Newcastle upon Tyne, in England, upwards of nine hundred persons have been admitted into the church.

☞ It takes three editors to start a paper in New Orleans—one to get killed in a duel, one to die with the yellow fever, and one to write an obituary of the defunct two.

☞ Some audacious scoundrel or scoundrels entered the Whig office, at Hollidaysburg, on Saturday night last, and threw into pi a number of cases and galleys of type.

☞ Halloween was permitted to pass unnoticed in this place this year. This is as it should be. It has ever been considered "better in the breach than in the observance."

☞ Gone—Old Billy Smith. His estalishment is now in the hands of John Alexander & Co., who will serve up oysters, &c., to all who call on them, in the best style ☞ Recovering.—We are pleased to learn from the Harrisburg papers, that Gen. Roumfort, Supt. Phila. Division, P. R. R., is recovering slowly, from his recent attack of fever.

☞ Stated—by one one of the city papers, that the whipping post is one the best institutions in Delaware. If this be true, her other "institutions" are not of a very good kind.

☞ A man who don't believe the world is growing better, says the time may come when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together, but if it does, the lamb will be inside of the lion.

☞ Bishop Ames, of the Methodist Church, was lately robbed of $100, at Galena, Ill, by a rogue who got into the room where he slept.—The Bishop was in attendance at the Rock River Conference.

☞ Black-eyed ladies are most apt to be passionate and jealous. Blue-eyed, soulful, truthful, affectionate, and confiding. Grey-eyed, philosophical, literary, resolute cold-hearted. Hazel-eyed, quick-tempered and fickle.

☞ Young's Spirit of the South and West has been united with Porter's Spirit of the Times, of New York. Porter's Spirit is now the best sporting paper in the country, and those who wish to be booked up in sporting items should not fail to take it.

☞ A young man named Godfrey Garman was instantly killed at Willmore, on Tuesday morning last. He attempted to jump from a freight train, whilst in motion, and was caught by one of the cars which ran over his arm and head, crushing both.

☞ From the Johnstown Tribune we learn that a spirited revival is now in progress among the Welsh miners at that place. Since its commencement some ninety persons have professed to find peace in believing. The voice of supplication for mercy is daily heard to ascend from knots of miners gathered together in the drifts of the Company's mines. Places which one month ago witnessed scenes of rioting and drunkenness, are now used for places of singing, exhortation and prayer.

☞ That diamond wedding at New York, came near being baptized in blood. Mr Bartlett challenged Mr. Stedman for ridiculing it in doggerel verse, and when Mr. Stedman showed a disposition to fight, Mr. Bartlett—backed down, and sued the poet for libel! What a fortunate result!!

☞ Promised—our neighbors of the Johnstown Tribune to give some Republicans about Ebensburg "particular fits" last week, unless their good nature rather than a sense of justice pevailed. As they did not do it, we presume they must of course be good natured. Glad to know it.

☞ Testimonial of Respect.—The officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have had a splendid silver salver, thirty-three by twenty-three inches, gotten up for presentation to W. A. Stokes, Esq., late Solicitor of the road. A massive gobblet, intended as a present for little "Aggie," his daughter, accompanies it.

☞ The New York ladies are exhibiting their hair dressed in a somewhat novel fashion. The hair is parted down the middle of the forehead, arranged in rich bandeaus, and then wound round the head in a double plait, forming a diadem; on the back of the head is placed a velvet bow with long ends.

☞ There is a new cause of trouble in the domestic affairs of Tippecanoe county, Indiana. There is a surplus of $18,000 in the treasury! and there is a great deal of discussion and diversity of opinion as to what ought to done with it. It is very doubtful if any other county has a similar affliction.

☞ Edward Everett, having been requested to preside at a meeting in behalf of the Indians, and told that the spirit of Daniel Webster had requested him to do so, replied "that a very long and ardent friendship had existed between himself and Mr. Webster, and he could not consent to receive any communication from him through a third patry."

☞ The St Paul Minnesotian says that a physician in that place asserts that 3,000 babies were born there last Winter, and that the crop the coming Winter will be still heavier. The Minnesotian says: "We think his figures rather steep, but this is certainly a fast country, and a profitable climate. In a few years we shall be indifferent whether we have emigration or not."

☞ As the train going west over the Great Western railway, a few nights since, was moving along the shore of Lake St. Clair, a heavy fog prevailing at the time, a flock of wild ducks came rushing against the cars, four of them entering the open door of the baggage car, which was quickly closed, and the game captured. The spoils were divided between the conductor and the baggageman.

☞ About a week ago a woman who rejoices in the cognomen of "Dancing Sal" stole a horse near Rochester, N. Y. A reward of $100 being offered for her arrest, she was pursued by a constable, who overtook her, and for safe keeping confined her in the third story of a hotel, from whence she escaped during the night by the aid of her bed cord, and finding the officers horse was superior to her own, exchanged steeds, and made her escape.

☞ The Agricultural Bureau of the U. S. Patent Office have received intelligence of the shipment from Harve, France, of a large swarm of Lombardy bees. They are of larger size than the ordinary bee, and, having a longer bill, are able to suck flowers inaccessible to the American bee. The product of an old hive of these bees is sometimes 150 lbs. of honey in one season. These bees will not be distributed until 1861, by which time it is expected to rear from the swarm now in transitu stock enough for six hundred hives.

☞ Death-Bed Conversion.—Lem. Showell, Esq., the wealthiest man in Worcester County, Maryland, and a lifetime Whig, died on the 4th inst. The Eastern Star says:—"On his death-bed, we understand, he called his relatives around him, and told them he had willed them a very large property; but from recent observations he had become satisfied it would be of little value to them, unless the Democrat party is successful. His dying request was, that all his family and relatives should hereafter act with the Democratic party, which they promised to do, and are now with us. The Showell family, we learn, number near a hundred in Worcester."

☞ The Maryland Election came off yesterday, but we have no returns. A telegraph dispatch was received in this place yesterday evening, stating that there had been considerable rioting in Baltimore and that five respectable citizens had been killed. Great excitement prevailed.

A CHILD WITH TWO HEADS.—A correspondent of the Anson (Me.) Advocate, relates that on the 18th of September last, a male child was born in the town of Palmyra, having two heads. The names of the parents are John and Mary Ward. The first, a natural head was connected by a neck of about the usual length and size, to the back or posterior part of the first one, a little above the point where the head and neck naturally join. Both heads were of about the same size, and facing opposite ways. Hair grew perfectly natural on both scalps, but the second head was entirely wanting in features.

There were a few small irregularities where the face or features should have been, appearing as if nature had made an effort to form features, but without success. The health of the child seemed good, and it grew well until the 19th of the present month, when the unnatural head was successfully amputated at the neck by Dr. J. C. Hanson, of Pittsfield. A dissection of this showed the skull to be composed of bone and cartilage also what should have been bone in the neck proved to be cartilage. The head contained a substance almost perfectly resembling brain, but of less density. It has now been five days since the operation, and the child is recovering very fast.

A RARE CASE.—The Washington Constitution says that a person who was recently allowed a pension on account of a disability incurred in the naval service, and supposed to be of a permanent character, has informed the pension office that he is happily restored to health and therefore relinquished his claim to the beneficence of the government. I similar instance has not occurred for many years, and it is as honorable to the gallant marine as it is novel.

☞ A curiosity has recently been discovered in the sand pit of Captain Nulton, at Kittanning. At the depth of twenty-five feet from the surface of the earth, the workmen came upon a substance in the form of a semi-crescent, about eight inches in diameter at one end, tapering to a point at the other, and was about seven or eight feet long. The outside was discolored, but the inside presented a clear white appearance, having a consistency not unlike Sawyer's Chemical Olive Soap, and when tried for washing the hands, removed the dirt equally as well. The sand stratum here is entirely free from gravel, but where this was found, there were several good sized boulders, and some gravel underneath it. The editor of the Democrat, who has a piece of this singular formation, is puzzled to know what action of nature produced such a result—and adds: "If it was originally a piece of wood, the transformation is most singular. If a tusk or bone, containing as it did, an alkali, the absorption of the vegetable oil, which is found throughout the Valley of the Allegheny, may have produced the substance found—a very passable article of fine, white hard soap! Whatever the origin and cause may have been in the above instance, the result is soap—The origin and cause are questions for scientific elaboration.

SINGULAR CATASTROPHE.—A farmer named Harris Durham was nearly killed near New Holland, Ohio, in a singular manner, last week. He was trying to catch an unbroken colt with a lasso, which was fastened to the horse he was riding. He threw the rope and caught the colt, and at the same time the rope caught in a circular twist around his neck, which dislodged him from the animal he was riding, when both became frightened and ran furiously around the stable yard, dragging Mr. Durham by the neck, and injuring him so severely that no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

☞ Another item of presumptive evidence of the insanity of "Ossawatomie Brown" has been discovered—it is stated that he is the father of twenty-two children!

WHAT IT WOULD TAKE TO FEED THE SUN.—A philosopher has calculated that the amount of light which flows from the solar orb could be scarcely produced by the daily combustion of two hundred globes of tallow, each equal to the earth in magnitude. A sphere of combustible matter much larger than the sun itself, would be consumed every ten years in maintaining its wonderful brilliancy. It would be a splendid sight to see an immense transparancy illuminated by means of one of these tallow globes, and having written upon it, "Buy all your garments at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut Street, above Sixth, Philadelphia."

THE GREAT RESTORATIVE.

FEVER AND AGUE CURED BY DR. M'LANE'S LIVER PILLS.

☞ Mr. Jonathan Houghman, of West Union, Park County, Illinois, writes to the proprietors, Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, that he had suffered greatly from a severe and protracted attack of Fever and Ague, and was completely restored to health by the use of the Liver Pills alone. These Pills unquestionably possess great tonic properties, and can be taken with decided advantage for many diseases requiring invigorating remedies; but the Liver Pills stand pre-eminent as a means of restoring a disorganized Liver to healthy action; hence the great celebrity they have attained. The numerous formidable diseases arising from a diseased Liver, which so long baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of the United States, are now rendered easy of cure, thanks to the study and perseverance of the distinguished physician whose name this great medicine bears—a name which will descend to posterity as one deserving of gratitude. This invaluable medicine should always be kept within reach; and on the appearance of the earliest symptoms of diseased Liver, it can be safely and usefully administered.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, manufactured by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. MEDICAL IMPOSSIBILITIES.

For a long time a certain class of diseases have baffled the skill and practice of the most eminent members of the regular medical faculty. Foremost among these we might instance epilepsy or falling fits. Happily now by the skill and inventive genius of an eminent chemist of Baltimore, Md., this disease has been brought within the means of a cure. We allude to the preparation called the Vegetable Extract Epileptic Pills, invented and prepared by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Md.—Since their discovery many persons who had given up all hope of ever being cured, have been restored to the full enjoyment of health. Prominent among these we might enumerate Mr. Harrison Lightfoot, of Huntsville, Alabama. Mr. L. has suffered as much from Epilepsy, as any other person in the world: never knowing what it was to pass a week without having an attack, and often falling in the streets of Huntsville. He is now fully restored and has not had an attack for more than a year. Dr. Hance's Pills have been the sure cause of this cure. These pills also cure all modifications of Fits, Spasms, Cramps &c., and are very serviceable for persons of weak nerves. Dr. Hance, sends them to any part of the country on the receipt of a remittance. Price, one box, $3: two boxes $5; twelve boxes $24;—Address SETH S. HANCE, 108 Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Md.

☞ Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventives of disease. We are never too well armored against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to."—Such an invigorator they may find in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—a medicine that cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system. At this season, particularly, the strongest man is not proof against the malaria, in certain sections of the country. In all cases of fever and ague, the Bitters is more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the Hostetter Bitters professes to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment, we cordially recommend an early application to the Bitters, whenever they are stricken by diseases of the digestive organs.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

JUST OPENED A STOCK OF Entirely New Goods.
R. A. O. KERR

WOULD INFORM THE GOOD people of Altoona, the surrounding country, and the "rest of mankind," that he has just returned from the city with a large stock of NEW GOODS, which he offers at reasonable prices, at the stand formerly occupied by R. Kerr, and recently by W. O'Neals, on Main street. His stock is the only one in town which is

ENTIRELY NEW,

and he flatters himself that he has something to please the eye of of every lady, and suit the wants of every gentleman. He deems it unnecessary to enumerate all the articles on the shelves, (as to do so would require a whole newspaper,) but would say that he has everything in the line of which this meridian calls for, and all just suited to the season, together with a well selected assortment of House Furnishing Goods, such as Carpets Window Blinds, Shades, &c., which will commend themselves.

LADIES' DRESS GOODS

FOR GENTLEMEN,

he has a great variety—from which they can not fail to make a satisfactory selection. He has also a tip-top assortment of GROCERIES as good, fresh and cheap as can be had this side of the place of growing or manufacture. Also, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, and everything necessary to complete a store in a thriving town like Altoona.

All he asks is that the people call and examine his stock, which he will at all times take pleasure in showing, and he feels confident that he can send them away rejoicing, if not in the purchase of just such an article as they wanted, at the remembrance of having looked upon the handsomest stock of Goods ever exhibited in the town.

EIGHT REASONS
WHY
EVERYBODY SHOULD GO TO
C. B. SINK'S STORE.

1. HE HAS A LARGE AND WELL selected assortment of Dry Goods, which are worth going to see.
2. He has an unequalled stock of GROCERIES, fresh and pure, which he will sell as reasonable as any merchant in the place.
3. He has Hardware, Queensware, Stoneware, &c., of the most fashionable styles.
4. He has a large case of Boots and Shoes for Gents, Ladies, Misses and Children, embracing all sizes, qualities and prices.
5. He has a fine stock of HATS for Summer wear—just the pink of the fashion—all very cheap.
6. He keeps always on hand an assortment of Ready Made Clothing, to suit the season.
7. He has on hand a large stock of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, which he will make up to order on short notice in a fashionable style, and at prices which must give satisfaction.
8. He don't ask people to come and buy—only to come and examine his stock, feeling confident that if they but examine they will buy without asking.

LOCAL ITEMS.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—Again it is our painful duty to chronicle one of those distressing calamities, which are the concomitant results of railway improvement. The facts of the case are as follows:—On Friday morning last, William Miles, foreman of the coal deliverers to engines, in the yard in this place, came down to the yard a few minutes before 7 o'clock, and was crossing the tracks to his work when he was knocked down and run over by an engine and tender which was backing down the yard, and instantly killed. It is supposed that he did not hear the engine backing down, on account of the noise made by another engine which was pulling a train up the yard and was close to him, on an adjoining track. His legs were completely crushed from the knees down, and the back part of his head broken in. A person who seen him just as the tender struck him, ran to him as soon as the engine passed over him, and attempted to pick him up, but found that life was extinct. Mr. Miles was an old resident of this place, and was much respected by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their sudden loss.—His remains were followed to the Catholic Cemetery, on Sunday, by the largest concourse of people, with one exception, that we have ever seen in Altoona.

ARRIVAL OF THE FIRE ENGINE.—According to previous announcement, the engine of the Citizens Fire Engine and Hose Company arrived on Saturday morning last, and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon some 35 or 40 of the Company met for parade. They were dressed in white shirts, black pants and glazed caps. The Engine, which is one of the prettiest in the country, and we may include the cities also, was handsomely decorated with wreaths. The company, after taking charge of the machine, paraded through the streets laid down in the programme published last week, with the exception of one of the streets in East Altoona, which was rendered impassable by the excavations for the gas and water pipes. A trial of the Engine was made in front of the Presbyterian Church and a stream thrown a little higher than the top of the lightning-rod. Another trial was made in front of the Logan House and the water thrown over the highest part of the building. The machine rendered perfect satisfaction, and Altoona now boast the handsomest, and one of the best engines to be found in either city or country.

Another trial of the Engine will be made on Saturday afternoon next, at 1 o'clock.

THANKSGIVING.—Thursday, 24th inst., is Thanksgiving, and no doubt many of our young readers are anxiously awaiting its arrival, with visions of roast turkey and accompanying "fixins." The turkeys, too, are no doubt holding animated meetings, endeavoring to decide which of them shall have the honor of gracing the table of an editor on that day, as that is an honor to be prized. Of course they do not wish to be bartered to him for "filthy lucre," but to be dropped into his sanctum in his absence, or left at his house, "with the compliments of- —" &c., or without any compliments, so they get there.

P. S. We have no coop; therefore those who contemplate playing us a foul trick will please tie the legs well, and we will prevent the birds from straying away.

A BOLD BURGLAR.—On Friday night last, the houses of C. J. Mann, Esq., and Rev. J. Steck, were entered by means of false keys, by some daring burglar, who ransacked them effectually, but did not get his fingers on anything in the first named, which he deemed worth carrying off, as he was evidently in search of money. In the second he met with about the same success, so far as money was concerned, but spying a good overcoat, and remembering that winter is coming on apace, when he might need such an article, he concluded to appropriate it, and it accordingly disappeared with him. Look to your door and window fastenings citizens, as this is the season of the year, when visits from such nocturnal prowlers may be expected.

NEW OYSTER SALOON.—Everybody in town, and a good many who don't live in town, knows John Alexander, the polite, accommodating and good-humored boss porter at the "Logan House," and of course, as soon as we tell them that he has bought out old Daddy Smith's Oyster Saloon, on Main street, just above Kerr's store, everybody will be calling on him for a plate of oysters, fried chickens, boiled eggs, confectionaries, perfumeries, segars, etc., etc., all of which he keeps constantly on hand. We can bear testimony that his oysters are among the finest we have ever tasted in the place. He will serve them to familes or parties by the can, dozen, peck, or bushel, as desired. Give John, and his partner, Molson, a call, gentlemen, and you will be well treated.

☞ The Protracted Meeting is still in progress in the Methodist Church. Although the interest manifested is by no means encouraging, still the good people who have it in charge appear determined to do their duty in the matter, if those who should be attending to the securing of the "one thing needful" do not.

OBSERVE THE RULES.—Rules for the government of all places of business, associations, and in fact for everything, are necessary. For this reason a number have been arranged for the government of those whose curiosity may induce them to visit printing offices, or who may constitute said offices their loafing places. It is expected that the rules will be universally observed:—

1. Enter softly.
2. Sit down quietly.
3. Subscribe for the paper.
4. Don't touch the poker.
5. Say nothing interesting.
6. Engage in no controversy.
7. Don't smoke.
8. Keep six feet from the table.
9. Don't talk to the printers.
10. Hands off the papers.
11. Eyes off the manuscripts.

Gentlemen observing these rules, when entering a printing office, will greatly oblige the printers, and need not fear the devil.

P. S. Persons on business are not required to be particular in observing the rules.

N. B. The ladies who sometimes bless us with their ever welcome presence, for a few moments, are not expected to keep the rules very strictly, and indeed it will be agreeable to us to have them break the fifth, eighth and ninth rules as often as convenient.

PRESBYTERIAN COLONY.—A convention of representatives connected with this enterprise—which we have already several times mentioned—met in this place on Wednesday, 26th ult.—We had not leisure to attend its sessions, but we understand that its deliberations were marked by much ability, sound practical wisdom, and gentlemanly comity, whilst a most remarkable degree of harmony prevailed in their counsels and decisions. After a close session of a little more than two days and evenings, their plans were matured—an exploration committee appointed, and a central executive committee, to receive subscriptions of stock and to shape the enterprize according to the written constitution, and carry the whole into effect. The delegates were from six different States, and they seem like earnest men, determined to go forward.—Dr Junkin of this place, was requested to act as Chairman of the central executive committee. John A. Crawford was appointed its Secretary, and Rev. J. J. Hamilton, of Bell's Mills, and Captains Minier and Stitler, of this vicinity, are the other members. Messrs. Montgomery, of Ohio, Ross, of Lawrence county, and Kyle, of Butler are the exploration committee. An initiation fee of ten dollars, to bear expenses, is to be paid by the members and all becoming members. We wish the enterprise every success.

We are requested to say that any communications addressed to Secretary Crawford will be promptly attended to.—Standard.

SCENE IN AN EDITOR'S ROOM.—Obliging patron. --Now I want you just to put in a little local notice of my new stock, will you?

Editor—Of course, how many lines will you have?

Pat—Oh! suit yourself. You know where my store is and what it is.

Editor—But our charges are fifteen cents a line, and if you will say how many you want, there will be no difficulty about it hereafter.

Pat.—What! do you expect to charge for it! I don't want to advertise, I only want a "puff." You don't charge for them, do you?

Editor—Not if you will allow me to come to your store and walk off with whatever I please to take without charge. Will you agree to that?

[Exit patron in rage, with a great big flea in his ear.]

☞ Once more we state that anonymous communications receive no attention at our hands, no matter how meritorious they may be. "A Patron," who sends us a lengthy poetical effusion certainly knew our rule, if he has been a reader of our paper, and might therefore have spared himself much trouble. We have little enough time to attend to communications which came to us duly subscribed, without poring over anonymous epistles. "A Patrons" epistle may be meritorious, or it may not; we have not read it for the reason above given. Anonymous communication are not preserved,—they generally find their way into the stove.

SELF-APPRECIATION.—Some men can never be made conscious of their own value. If they succeed in life, they are neither indebted, in their own opinion, to circumstances or Providence, but purely to their own merits. If they fail they are straightway persuaded that the most powerful combinations were formed to produce that result, and they are conquered in spite of their merits. Such are the men of whom the Frenchman said—"If I could buy them for what other people think them worth, and sell them for what they think themselves worth, it would be one grand speculation."

NEW BRANCH ROAD.—Workmen are now engaged on the new route of the Branch track between this place and Hollidaysburg. The new route branches off from the main track at the West end of town and inters ects the old track in the vicinity of the plank road crossing. When finished it will materially shorten the distance to Hollidaysburg, to be traversed by the Branch Train, and all delays will be obviated. The old track through the town is to be filled up.

REDUCTION OF TIME.—On Tuesday last, 1st inst., the time of daily labor in the shops of the Penn'a Rail Road Company, along the whole line of the Road, was reduced to 9 hours per day. This is done in order to retain all the hands employed by the Company, during the winter, and obviate the necessity of dismissing any who might be unable to find immediate employment, and suffer in consequence.

ADMITTED.—On motion of M. H. Jolly, Esq., Mr. R. Boyers, Esq., of this place, was, on Monday of last week, admitted to practice in the several Courts of this county.

On Tuesday, on motion of Wm. R. Boyers, Esq., Wm. A. Stewart, Esq., was admitted to practice in the several Courts of Blair county.

ACCIDENT.—We learn from the Tyrone Star, that Mr. Jos. Garner, miller at Beyer's Mill, was severely injured, a short time since, by being rode over by a couple of young men on their way home from Tyrone. There is little, if any, hope of the recovery of the injured man.

BLAIR COUNTY QUARTER SESSIONS.—Oct. 1859. —Com. vs. John Young.—Indicted for Assault and Battery on the person of Mrs. Mary Jane Fraley, in Altoona, on the 4th of July last.—The fight originated about Mrs. Fraley's clothesline being in Young's way to the pump, and resulted in nobody being hurt; though it was proven that both parties had received blows; the Dft. especially suffering from a lively application of woman's ever ready weapon—a broomstick. After a patient hearing of the case, and a short retirement, the Jury brought in as their verdict that the Dft. is not guilty, but that he pay one-half the costs, and that Mary Jane Fraley, the prosecutrix, pay the other half of the costs. But this was not all of the difficulty between these parties, for the Grand Jury had ungallantly found a "true bill" for assault and battery against Mrs. Fraley for beating Young with the broomstick as aforesaid; and Young had also a case of Surety of the Peace pending against her. In these cases however, a settlement was effected;—Dft. agreeing to pay the docket costs, and Prosecutor to file no bill.

Com. vs. Isaac Edwards.—Isaac is a rather bad specimen of humanity, with "a rich Irish brogue" on his tongue and a sable "better half" at his board; and who had "concluded to work less and steal more." He was brought before Court on a charge of having stolen some 2½ bushels of corn, three or four bags, and some chickens and hams, some time in April last, from Mrs. Massey S. Lias, at Canoe Creek.—The principal witness against him was his curly-headed father-in-law, "black as the ace of spades," who accompanied him in his adventure for the plunder;—but witnesses were of small account, for Isaac scorned to deny the truth and said he "acknowledged the corn" but the bacon he didn't steal. At all events the witnesses failed to make out the bacon, and the Jury found Isaac guilty of petit larceny. [Not yet sentenced.]

Com. vs. Alex. McFarland.—This was a bit of a fray between a pair of old folks; and Dft. stood charged with assault and battery on the person of Mrs. Eaken at Charlottsville;—the ground of the trouble being the rent of a house and the "dressing" of some butter. Verdict, guilty. Dft. sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Com vs. Adam Matthews and Catharine his wife and Casper Crum.—The Dfts. are a Duncansville party, and were arraigned for resisting James Williamson, Constable of Allegheny tp. in the discharge of his duty. He sought to make a levy on the property of Dfts., but they interfered by laying hold of him and making most violent threats of personal injury to him, and finally succeeded in driving him off and preventing the levy. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Com. vs. John Murray—indicted for stealing a horse from Mr. Christian Snively of Woodbery tp. on the night of the 29th July last. It appeared that he had taken across Tussey Mountain in Huntingdon county, with horse, and was seen in passing that way; but what disposition he made of the horse has not been learned. He was arrested, as we have before noticed, in one of the passes of the Allegheny mountains, having in his possession a quantity of counterfeit coin, a revolver, and a bottle of chloroform. On his trial nothing was elicited as to his history or his home; but after his conviction, when called up for sentence, the commonwealth undertook to show by records from Mifflin county, and by witnesses examined, that he had been convicted of horse stealing in that county in 1846, and sentenced for a term of three years to the Eastern Penitentiary, but it failed to establish the identity of the man. He therefore could be sentenced only as for a first offence, and the Court imposed upon him a fine of $5 and the costs of prosecution and an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary, at hard labor for a term of four years.

Com. vs. James Shoemaker.—Indictment, keeping a Tippling House in Martinsburg, from July sessions. True bill; and Dft. pleads guilty and submits. Sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs of prosecution.

Com. vs. Jesse M. Lindsey.—Fornication and Bastardy. True bill. Continued to next sessions; and attachments awarded for several witnesses in contempt.

Com. vs. Barsona Rouch.—Indictment, Assault and Battery. Grand inquest return not a true bill, and that Francis Hibbs, the prosecutor, pay the costs, except the $4 to the county.

Com. vs. Ann Bulger.—Indictment, selling liquor on Sunday, in Hollidaysburg, Dft. pleads guilty and submits. Sentenced to pay a fiine of $10 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 15 days.—Same Dft. was indicted for selling liquor without license; and plead guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.—Register.

BOGUS MONEY.—This article, never scarce, appears to be unusually plenty in this place at this time, especially quarter dollars, and those handling money should be on the lookout for them, as they are well gotten up and are very deceiving. The large quantity of them in circulation at this time has given rise to the suspicion that there are a few "shovers" in town. Examine all the new quarters presented just now, or you may be victimized.

☞ If the person who signs himself a "Well-Wisher" will give us his name, his communication shall appear, as we consider it excellent and to the point, and one to which he should not be ashamed to attach his real name. We hope he will gratify us immediately, as we desire to publish the article ere it loses its interest; but we can not do so unless we have a responsible name.

TO THE PUBLIC.—David Osswalt desires us to inform the public that he has taken charge of the confectionary store, two doors above the Masonic Temple, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of confectionaries nuts, fruit, etc. He will also keep fresh oysters which will be served up at all times. Also, fresh butter and eggs, potatoes, honey, &c., together with other kinds of marketing.

TO THE PUBLIC.—A few more of those beautiful Talmas, Cloaks, &c., have just been received at the store of R. A. O. Kerr, and are going off like "hot cakes."

☞ The Grand Jury on Thursday submitted the following:

To the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions: We would respectfully report that we have visited the "House of Employment," and are pleased to state that we found it in good condition; the floors of all parts of the house remarkably clean, a sufficient amount of clean and warm covering on all the beds, the paupers clean and comfortable as their circumstances would admit, and all needful attention given to the sick and decrepid. We consider the management of Mr. McGraw to be all that could be required, and such that insures justice to all the inmates of the house, and will inure to the best interests of the tax-payers of the county. Signed.

JAMES ROLLER, Foreman,
And by all the other Jurors present.

Same day—

The Grand Jury do respectfully present that during their session their attention has been called to the appointments of the offices of the Prothonotary and Register and Recorder for the preservation of the Public Records; and after a full examination they are convinced that the Records of the county are not sufficiently protected against fire and other accidents owing to the improper construction of the rooms in which the records are kept. It is highly important in the judgement of the Grand Jury that provisions be made at the earliest day for the erection of vaults in the most approved plan for the protection of the public records, and they do recommend the proposed alterations to the favorable consideration of the County Commissioners. Signed.

JAMES ROLLER, Foreman.
And by all the other Jurors present.

SCHOOL BELLS.—We understand that the School Directors have purchased a couple of excellent bells and intend putting them on the top of the school houses in each ward in a few days. Bells have long been needed at those institutions, and the juveniles will no longer have the excuse of "didn't know it was time," to plead.

NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given to Stockholders that the sixth instalment on the Capital Stock of the Altoona Gas and Water Company, will be due and made payable at the Banking House of Wm. M. Lloyd & Co., on Wednesday, November 16th, 1859.

BENJ. F. ROSE, Sec'y.

PROSPECTUS OF A NEW WORK BY EMERSON BENNETT, Author of "Clara Moreland," "Prairie Flower," "The Refugees," "Blanche Bertrand," "The Artist's Bride," &c., &c., entitled

WILD SCENES ON THE FRONTIERS; OR HEROES OF THE WEST.

"Westward, the course of Empire takes its way."

This Work, is the only one in Book form, which for several years has emanated from the pen of the gifted author, who treads now alone the path once trodden by our own Cooper. It will contain graphic pictures of the conflicts of the hardy Pioneer, whose strifes and struggles with his Indian foe, rival the tales of fiction and the tragic counterfeits of the mimic stage. Also thrilling narratives of the daring deeds, the heart-trials, the heroic devotion and self-denial of noble women, the mothers of the West! Beneath the over-arching forests, hand to hand, and foot to foot, the intrepid adventurer has encountered in deadly combat the ruffian desperadoes who made their haunts in the backwoods, and his gallant achievements have thrown a halo of romance over the waving prairies, the grand old mountains, and the majestic rivers of the land of the setting sun!

Nor are these pages wanting in those gentler scenes which make up home-life, and which are pictured with all the skill and fidelity for which the author is pre-eminently distinguished. His delineation of Frontier character, and of the scenery of the Borders, has always the advantage of an accuracy which is the result of an intimate, personal acquaintance.

The Work will be printed on fine white paper, in clear, open type, and appropriately and beautifully illustrated by the most skillful artists. 12mo., Cloth. Price, 1.25.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,
The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

BOERHAVE'S
HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER, Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

IRON FINGER NAILS FOR HUSKING CORN.—Gould's Patent Husking Thimble is the only implement known that will entirely protect the fingers from the evils of excoriation, &c., common to husking corn by hand.

We are now in possession of over 200,000 letters of approval, over the signatures of reliable farmers and planters in different localities in the U. S., equally as flattering as the following.

READ! READ! READ!
THE HUSKING THIMBLE CAN'T be BEAT.

MESSRS GOULD & Co—Sirs:—I send enclosed $1 for six pairs of your celebrated Husking Thimbles. I bought a pair of you last fall and I have used them for husking ever since. If there are any who don't think worth while to buy a pair, let them tear their finger nails off; for one, I won't. They will outwear anything of the kind I ever saw, and for husking they can't be beat.
Yours truly, WM. MORROW.
Tiro, Crawford Co., O., Nov. 8th, 1858.

BETTER THAN ANY MACHINE.

MESSRS. J. H. GOULD & Co.—Gents; find enclosed $1,00 for six pairs of your patent Husking Thimbles of the sizes represented by the measures enclosed. I used a pair last year and I prefer them to all the great, small, and little giant Corn Huskers. Yours Respectfully, A. H. BELL.
Hillsboro Montgomery Co., Ill. Nov. 27th, 1858.

THE HUSKING THIMBLES ARE ALL WE REPRESENT THEM TO BE.

J. H. GOULD & Co.—Alliance Ohio—Gentlemen; I received in good order the six pairs of Husking Thimbles and can say that they are all that is represented of them, I have distributed them among my neighbors, and could have sold a great many if I had had them in season. I will myself, or get some one to do so, apply for an agency for their sale in Central Iowa next season.
Yours &c., SAMUEL A. DYER.
East Desmoines Polk Co., Iowa, Dec. 20th, 1858.

PRICES.

The Husking Thimbles are sent by mail (post paid) to any P. O. address, for one dollar per dozen, (six pairs.) Assorted sizes with circulars, directions for using &c. by Express for five dollars per hundred, (50 pairs.) HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

Fever and Ague.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

☞ Sold by G W Kessler and A Roush, Altoona; G A Jacobs, J K Patton and W G Murray, Hollidaysburg; and S Berlin, Tyrone. [Aug. 25, 1859-1y

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT.

Read the following Certificates to the Efficacy of this Medicine in Inflammatory Diseases.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Inflammatory Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until cold weather set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubled me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled, and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact, I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hoping to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffering the most excruciating pain all the time.—One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised Dr. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALT, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it; pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a dose doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salt both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was perfectly astonishing. I could hardly realize it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one dose, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to substantiate if necessary; and will again say that in the MEDICAL SALT, a sure cure may be found for all inflammatory diseases, and would urge all who are afflicted to give it a trial. GEO. H. DUNCAN,
No. 117 Wall Street, New York.

When it is remembered that the MEDICAL SALT is as efficacious in all other Inflammatory diseases as in Rheumatism, (see descriptive circulars) it will at once be seen that it is a most valuable remedy. Surely those thus afflicted will find in their own condition and in the above statements, enough to induce them to give the MEDICAL SALT a trial.

Price $1,00; Chronic packages, $2,50.

TO all wanting Farms. See advertisement of Hammonton Lands.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.—To all wanting Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 25 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vinyards and Peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations. He is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Founderies for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land; leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.—Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

The Howard Association, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual Diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a charitable act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give medical advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty and suffering, to furnish medicine free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The directors of the Association, in their Annual Report upon the treatment of Sexual Diseases, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of the Consulting Surgeon in the cure of Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or Self-abuse, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important and much despised cause.

An admirable Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation, or Self-abuse, and other abuses of the sexual organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope), FREE OF CHARGE, on receipt of TWO STAMPS for postage. Other Reports and Tracts on the nature and treatment of sexual diseases, &c., are constantly being published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent to the afflicted. Some of the new remedies and methods of treatment discovered during the last year, are of great value.

Address, for Report or Treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 S. Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.
CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public a NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove. Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal fires.

ONE-THIRD LESS FUEL

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and examine the above stoves. JOHN SHOEMAKER,
Sole Agent for Blair County.

DR. M'LANE'S
CELEBRATED
AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated
Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,

For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,

For the cure of Liver Complaints, all Bilious Derangements, Sick Head-Ache, &c. In cases of preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

Fever and Ague,

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

Fleming Brothers,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P. S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Flemming Bros, will do well to write their orders distinctly and take none but Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward by mail, post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

☞ For sale in Altoona, by A. Roush and G. W. Kessler, and by all Druggists. [may 19, '59-1y
